Dear MoonValley Property Residents

On behalf of MoonValley Properties we would like to inform you that the Do Not Drink and Do Not Boil precautionary notice dated October 2nd, 2020 has been lifted. All the water has been tested by state water board regulations and has been deemed safe for use and consumption. Please be aware that the water has yet to be turned on. Our crew will be turning on the water services one by one. VOC test and bacteriological test results have shown there is no contamination in the water. However, for cautionary purposes it is expected that all residents flush their systems prior to domestic use. (Please see page 2 for instructions on how to flush your system). Test results have also shown there is a slight increase of chlorine residing in the water, this should resolve shortly and flushing of the systems should decrease chlorine residuals. Time and usage will decrease chlorine residuals as well. There is no need to worry about the chlorine for it is there to protect the system.
